Learn To Love.

Because Finally — Love Is All You Need.

“Covid World with subtitle Consumer World is the series which does not reflect only the world under the global covid pandemy, but mainly the consumer world we all are living in. The world in which we all are calling for freedom, but forget that freedom is not to do everything I want, but it is responsibility. The series hides the message, the calling for what really matters in life, for the real values — without them our life becomes an empty container — humility, care, sincerity, inner peace, fantasy, open mind, pure heart, dreaming and LOVE.”

“Photography from Covid World Series. With photographs from this series I reflect the world under the influence of global pandemy and I hide into this series also the calling for hope, humility, care, and love. The photograph „Prohibition of Deviation From Line“ draws attention to the delicate line between the necessary security measures during a pandemic and senseless restrictions restricting freedom. Children in the photography represent purity and trusting obedience in authority, however, the imposed masks of prohibitions make them an obedient line, which is disturbed by only one raised palm symbolizing the desire for free speech.”
